Summary:

The webinar on World Nature Conservation Day, held on July 27, 2024, was a significant event aimed at raising awareness about the importance of conserving nature and the environment. The event was successfully organized by Government Vidarbha Institute of Science and Humanities (Autonomous) Amravati, Yashwantrao Chavan College of Science, Karad in collaboration with Rashtrapita Mahatma Gandhi Arts, Commerce and Science College, Saoli Dist- Chandrapur

Speaker: Prof. Rajkumar Khapekar, a renowned environmentalist and academic, was the keynote speaker for the webinar. His extensive knowledge and experience in the field of nature conservation made his insights and perspectives highly valuable to the audience.

Participants: The webinar saw the participation of 254 individuals, including students, faculty members, and environmental enthusiasts. The large turnout indicated a strong interest and commitment towards nature conservation among the attendees.

Key Highlights:

1. Introduction to World Nature Conservation Day: Prof. Khapekar began by explaining the significance of World Nature Conservation Day, emphasizing the global need to protect and preserve natural resources. He highlighted the theme of this year's celebration and its relevance to current environmental challenges.
2. Current Environmental Issues: The speaker discussed various pressing environmental issues such as deforestation, climate change, pollution, and loss of biodiversity. He provided statistics and case studies to illustrate the severity of these problems and their impact on both local and global scales.
3. Conservation Strategies: Prof. Khapekar outlined several effective strategies for nature conservation, including sustainable development, conservation of natural habitats, and the importance of community involvement. He stressed the role of education and awareness in promoting conservation efforts.

4. Role of Individuals and Communities: Emphasizing that conservation is a collective responsibility, Prof. Khapekar encouraged participants to take proactive steps in their daily lives to reduce their environmental footprint. He provided practical tips on reducing waste, conserving water, and supporting eco-friendly practices.
5. Interactive Session: The webinar included an interactive Q&A session, where participants had the opportunity to ask questions and share their views. This session facilitated a deeper understanding of the topics discussed and allowed for the exchange of ideas and experiences among attendees.
6. Collaborative Efforts: The collaboration between Rashtrapita Mahatma Gandhi Arts, Commerce and Science College and Mula Education Society's Arts, Commerce and Science College was highlighted as an exemplary model of how educational institutions can work together to promote environmental awareness and action.

Conclusion:

The webinar on World Nature Conservation Day was a resounding success, with engaging discussions and valuable insights shared by Prof. Rajkumar Khapekar. The event not only raised awareness about critical environmental issues but also inspired participants to take meaningful actions towards conserving nature. The collaboration between the two organizing colleges showcased the power of collective efforts in driving positive change for the environment.

Acknowledgements:

The organizers expressed their gratitude to Prof. Rajkumar Khapekar for his enlightening presentation, and to all participants for their active involvement. Special thanks were extended to the faculty and staff of both organizing colleges for their efforts in making the webinar a success.
